1. Athena Herd Foundation has changed its name to AAHEP (Association for Animals, Horticultural & Equine Practitioners) on 01 October 2025 due to its extension of titles recognised by the Professional Standards Authority along with also holding the regulated title, together with HCPC, of Equine Assisted/Facilitated Occupational Therapy

2. Racing on Roads. Please contact us if you have an interest/concern and would like to be involved in discussions about the law and this area of equine use:

- Taken a pause on setting up new meetings with the remaining societies, to process the existing cases
- For the organisations that are in the process of making necessary changes or have sent their application to be reviewed: Taking this delay into consideration with regards to the 6 month grace period, as long as the societies are cooperating with the reviews, will be as lenient as possible with the deadlines.

Forward plan:

- requesting the society's studbook structure prior to setting up the meeting
- asking each society about recording the meetings to help with comprehensive notes to expedite the process and reduce follow up questions.

“I understand that this process is appearing to move slowly so

I’m very grateful to every society for being so patient and cooperative.

So far everyone is working very hard to achieve compliance and I’m appreciative of this”
